AUGUST 12, 1756. [Numb. 1155.]

SOUTH-CAROLINA Gazette.

By the Express which returned last Friday Evening from Cape-Fear, we have the following Advices, (from a Virginia Gazette of the 16th of July, and a Pensylvania Gazette of the 15th) viz.

NEW YORK, June 21.

LAST tuesday evening arriv'd at Sandy-Hook, in 9 weeks and 3 days from Plymouth, his majesty's ship the Grafton, of 74 guns, commodore Holmes, and the Nottingham, of 60 guns, capt. Marshal, having the Essex capt. Grainger, the Fortrose, capt. Mackenzie, the Sheerham, capt. Wilcox, and the Loyaville, capt. Staples, transport ships, under convoy. They parted company on the 2d instant, in a strong gale of wind, with the Charlton capt. Lad, and Wilmington (a ship of 500 tons, laden with stores) capt. Perry, two other of the transports, who may be hourly expected. [Having on board upwards of 1100 land forces, including officers]

And on wednesday morning, about 11 o'clock, landed major general James Abercrombie, commander in chief of all his majesty's forces in North-America, as also some other officers that came passengers in the Grafton, and were saluted by the cannon on the battery.

Upwards of one thousand men more are compleating in England for the aid of these colonies, and are to sail as soon as possible.

On saturday morning both the men of war weigh'd and put to sea, as the weather seemed lowering, and wind to incline on shore. They are bound to Halifax, and the commodore is commander in chief of the navy in North America.

General Abercrombie and general Webb are to embark this day for Albany, with the troops that came in the transports.

Last week a French gentleman arrived here from St. Eustatia, whom his excellency our governor has been pleased to order to proper lodgings in the city-hall.

Extract of a Letter from Albany, June 8.

"Sir William Johnson left his seat the 3d instant for Onondago; he has about 150 Mohawks and River Indians, and capt Patton's company of grenadiers to guard him." I am &c.

New-York, June 28. James Abercrombie, Esq; major general. Captain James Abercrombie, and lieut William Abercrombie, together with all the officers and men that arrived here the 15th instant, embarked and sailed for Albany on tuesday last, about 2 P.M.

On tuesday came up the Earl of Halifax, capt. Philipse, in 10 weeks from London, having on board 120 tons of peafe for the use of his majesty's forces.

Four Connecticut victuallers, and three schooners with forces on board, from New-England, passed by since our last for Albany.

And sloops were last week along side the European victuallers lying in the harbour, taking out the provisions designed for the army.

We hear a great number of the French Neutrals, some say 7 boat loads, who were permitted to leave Georgia and South Carolina, are arrived, and stopp'd in Monmouth county, somewhere near Shrewsbury, in the Jerseys; and a council is called at Elizabeth-town about them.

Letters from Albany advise, that the enemy has been observed cutting a road from Ticonderoga towards one of our forts; and that the famous Rogers having returned from a scouting, had either routed the enemy from the aforementioned road, or intended to lie in ambush for them.

Major Bubbe, and his 200 North Carolinians, arrived safe at Albany on the 16th instant, and were, by general Shirley, immediately ordered up to Canajoghery, near the Long Falls, on the Mohawk's river, there to relieve a number of regulars some time since posted at that place.

A Letter from Oswego, dated June 12.

—"Oswego is still a part of the British dominions; and all here are well. Our vessels built last year got out the 5th current: They were seen the 6th 3 leagues to the westward. Considering the interruption our frequent alarms give us, the 3 vessels on the stocks are pretty forward."

A letter from a place called Burnet's fields, about 80 miles above Albany, dated June 13 says—Here are certain accounts of large bodies of French and Indians being between this and Oswego, in order to cut off the battoes: Notwithstanding which, col. Bradstreet, last Saturday, went from hence with 100 battoes loaded with provisions.

Extract of a Letter from Oswego, dated June 17.

"Yesterday morning, about half an hour before sun-rise, as a serjeants guard was posted on the opposite bank of this river, to cover the battoes and wood cutters, they were attacked by between 2 and 300 French and Indians, who killed 5 of our people, took 1, and wounded 2 more. They kept a constant fire upon the town for near 2 hours, and their shot struck against our fort and houses, with force sufficient to do execution, but none on this side the river were hurt: We returned their fire from our small arms, cannon and mortars, with some shells, which at length dispersed them; when col. Mercer sent an officer with 2 whale boats manned, to the Eastward to reconnoitre, who returned in the evening, and informed us, that after they had doubled the 18 mile point they saw a smoke at the bottom of a large bay; upon approaching which, within about 300 yards of the shore, they fired about 5 or 6 muskets, and immediately thereupon the beach was covered with, by their computation, about 1000 French and Indians, who kept a constant fire at the whale boats, until they were in the Offing. This place is by land distant about 16 miles from hence, where the enemy has made an encampment since the beginning of March last, from whence they sent that detachment to Bull's fort; and are almost daily annoying us, and we have not an Indian here to reconnoitre the woods. We are in high spirits, and have plenty of provisions. Our vessels are just returned from a fortnight's cruize, but have made no material discovery.—Masts for the 3 vessels on the stocks are already cut, and lie ready to be put in.—We are continually under arms, as we expect an attack every moment.—The vessels building are 2 schooners, a snow of 75 feet keel, a brigt. and a large sloop, which, with the old ones, will form a fleet of 8 sail."

Albany, June 24. We expect to move from this place to Saraktoga, as soon as general Abercrombie and col. Webb come up; all our stores, provisions, and entrenching tools, having been moving for some days past. We hear our new officers are within 30 miles of us.

We hear from Fort Edward, that by saturday night last, they expected to have at that place provisions enough for near 10 000, for 3 months at least.

Part of a Letter from our Correspondent at Fort Williams, on the Road to Oswego, May 31.

"I must observe to you something worthy of praise in the men which went up to Oswego with col. Bradstreet in April last, and which has not as yet been noticed in any of the news papers, viz. When the colonel was about crossing the 4 mile or Great Carrying-flying-place, he could not obtain above 50 sledges to help over the 400 battoe load of provisions he had with him, and those would not stir until the 27th of April: to have employed which would have taken near a month to carry the provisions and battoes over in the usual manner. But to make up this deficiency the 500 men Mr Braddock had with him, immediately set themselves to work in clearing and making dams in a creek, by which means they shortened the carriage by land three miles, and the remainder of the way the men carried the boats upon their shoulders.—A good fort is built at the place where the one was destroyed under the command of lieutenant Ball."

BOSTON, July 5. Yesterday arrived here captain Dennet, in 8 days from Halifax, and says, the afternoon before he sailed, capt Rous arrived there from off Louisbourg, and reported to the governor, that the fleet under commodore Spry, then consisting of 7 sail, observing a 36 gun French frigate, gave her chace, and 5 of them being prime sailers, left the Norwich of 50 guns, and a 60 gun to leeward, which the morning after discovered a large ship between them, that proved to be a 54 gun French man of war, when they immediately began to engage her, and after exchanging a few broadsides, she struck to the Norwich. She had on board 480 men, and was bound to Louisbourg. Capt Rous also took a French store ship of 400 tons, and 20 men, laden with ammunition, stores, &c. likewise bound to Louisbourg, which, with the man of war, he was conveying to Halifax, but in a fog the thursday night before parted with them; and as the wind was fair when capt. Dennet sailed, he doubts not of their being arrived. The two above ships were part of 13 sail which sailed from different ports in France for Cape Breton; and in our next we hope to give a further account of the remainder, as the fleet cruising off Louisbourg, now consists of 13 sail, having since the taking of the above prizes, been reinforced with 6 ships, viz. a 40, a 20, and a 16 gun ship from hence, a 20 gun ship from Virginia, the Grafton of 74, and Nottingham of 60, from New York.

New York, July 12 By the sloop that brought his excellency general Shirley from Albany, and others arrived since, we have the following advices, viz. That on the 26th of June there were 6775 of the provincial troops encamped at Saraghtoga, Fort Edward, and Fort William Henry; and that it was not doubted, but that by the latter end of last week, at farthest, they would be increased to 7000 men, officers included, with their provisions and stores in such forwardness, as to enable them forthwith to march for Ticonderoga or Crown Point.

That a considerable quantity of provisions was laid in at Saraghtoga for his majesty's regular forces, to be ready in case any of them should march that way.

That the French had lately destroyed their works at their most advanced post upon Lake George, and abandoned it; and were judged to have about 3000 troops (part regulars) at Ticonderoga.

That capt Rogers went, about 3 weeks ago, with his whole company, and has taken with him 4 light whale boats, with which he purposes to proceed into Lake Champlain, there to harrass the enemy's convoys of provisions and stores, in their passage from Montreal to Crown Point; that a party of about 50 Stockbridge Indians are also gone towards Canada, on the scalping design, and that several parties of the provincial troops are kept constantly employed in scouting towards South bay, Ticonderoga, and Crown-Point; so that we have hopes, that not only our own frontiers will be free from the frequent incursions and alarms of the enemies parties, but that they will be paid in their own coin, by having their own frontiers invaded.

That major-general Shirley's, and Sir Wm Pepperell's regiments, with the New-Jersey regiment, commanded by col. Peter Schuyler, his majesty's 4 independent companies from New York, and the 4 provincial companies of North-Carolina, were posted at Oswego, and the several forts and carrying-places between that place and Schenectady.

That, notwithstanding the road thro' the country of the Five Nations, and the whole navigation to Oswego, has been greatly infested with French Indians in the winter and spring, of large parties of French Indians employed to cut off our convoys of provisions and stores for Oswego; yet, by means of our large squadrons of whale-boats and battoes, a quantity of provisions has been thrown into our magazine there, sufficient for the support of 3000 men for several months, with all the cannon and naval stores for the several vessels building there.

That the return of the battoes to Schenectady, from Oswego, was expected in a few days; when they would be ready to take on board another cargo of provisions and stores, with such troops for Oswego, as are desired to act on Lake Ontario, in any attempt which shall be carried on in that quarter against the French this year.

That by the latter end of this month, we shall have upon the said Lake, a naval force consisting of one snow of 18 six pounders, and 20 swivels; one Brig. of 4 six, and 6 four-pounders, and 10 swivels; one schooner of 10 four pounders, and 10 swivels; two sloops of 8 four pounders, and 10 swivels each; and two small schooners of 10 swivels each; as also upwards of 230 whale boats, capable of holding 16 men each.

That at the desire of the Indians of the Six Nations, forts are now building at some of their castles, for their protection against the French and their Indians, to be mounted with cannon, and garisoned with English soldiers.

That on the 27th of June, a party of provincials, under the command of a lieutenant, were sent to a small fort near No. 4, but were surprized by a number of the enemy about 8 miles from Half-Moon, when the lieutenant and 12 of the men were killed. An Indian that escaped and brought the account, said, there was 200 of the enemy, as he saw them very plainly going over a field.

Thursday evening last 6 eighteen pounders were taken off our battery, and shipped on board a sloop for Albany: We hear, they are to be employed in the Crown Point expedition.

Saturday last Capt. Sears arrived here in 2 weeks from Halifax, where his majesty's ships the Grafton, commodore Holmes, of 70 guns, and the Nottingham of 60, were safe arrived, and intended to sail from that place in a few days, in order to join our fleet that is cruising off Louisbourg.

Capt Sears informs us, that the night before he sailed, his majesty's ship Success, Capt Rous, and the Baltimore snow, arrived there with several hundred French prisoners belonging to a French 50 gun ship, and a store ship, that were some days before taken by our fleet off Cape Breton; and they were hourly expected into port. N.B There was 6 brass mortars of 13 inch diameter, on board the storeship.

Yesterday his excellency our governor set out from hence for Albany.

We can assure the public, Sir William Johnson is returned safe to Mount Johnson.

Extract of a Letter from Oswego, June 20.

"We are all in general well and hearty in this place, tho' we had a disagreeable visit 3 days ago, from about 2 or 300 French and Indians. At day dawn they attacked a serjeant's guard a little way from Fort Ontario, just after they came out of the fort, and were putting up their tents; they killed and scalped 5 of the guard, one they carried off prisoner, and two they wounded; notwithstanding the fire of our cannon, and some muskets, they kept behind logs, and in the bushes, continually firing upon the town, for two hours; however, I am pretty sure we have done them some mischief, by the quantity of blood we found in different parts. I saw one of 'em fall by a shot from this side. We have plenty of provisions, but few men, and fewer officers; so that I imagine if we keep our own, we shall do very well."

Extract of a Letter from Oswego, June 26.

"On the evening of the 23d inst. 2 schooners and 6 whale boats were sent out on the Lake in order to reconnoitre recover of the enemy) next day they discovered a large body of them on a small island, about 8 or 9 miles long, and half a mile over: Our people stood for the N.E. end of it, in order to cut off their communication with Quadrique, and in rowing close up along the shore, the foremost whale boat, commanded by capt Bickers of col. Schuyler's regiment, was fir'd upon about 3 o'clock, P.M. and every man in the boat but two, was either killed or taken prisoners. The people in the other whale boats observing a great number of craft coming off, scuttled 3 of them, and went on board the schooner, in order to attack the enemy. Mr. Lowe, a volunteer, and capt. Bickers, are both killed, and much lamented. One of the schooners is arrived, and the other, with the boats, are in sight."

Philadelphia, July 8. On monday next the general assembly of this province meets here, by summons from his honour the governor.

Extract of a Letter from Dumfries, in Virginia, dated July 8.

"On the 27th ult. Capt. William Baylis, of the Prince William militia, with a party of 26 men, fell in with (it is thought) 60 or more Indians near Cape Capon; and, after maintaining a smart fire for some time, was forced to retreat, having killed 4 of the enemy, with no loss on his side, only 6 or 7 of his men wounded.

CHARLES-TOWN, August 12.

By one of the Papers from which the foregoing Intelligence has been taken, it appears, that there has been a Suspension of Arms on the Part of Pennsylvania, towards the Susquehanna Indians (commencing the 3d of June) for 30 Days; and that the said Suspension was continued for 30 Days more, from the 10th of July.

Extract of a Letter from North-Carolina, dated July 31*st*.

"Some Depredations having been committed by French Indians on our Upper Settlements, His Excellency our Governor has ordered two Troops of Horse, and a Party of Capt. Waddel's Company, for their Protection and to range the Woods. — An idle Fellow that had deserted from Capt. Waddel, has killed one of the Catawba's, who he alledges was pillaging his House; but, it seems, the Indian had left his Gun without the Door, opened the Latch and went in, and finding no Person in the House, was rummaging about when the white Man came home, who, after a few Words, shot him (I think) with his own Gun. Capt. Waddel has him in Custody, who is ordered to assure the Nation that he shall be prosecuted with the utmost severity; and if this will not satisfy them, he is to deliver him up to them."
